

The Fernhurst Society has made great progress over the past four years pursuing a large number of local nature, wildlife and history projects in the parish. Rather than tell you about the details in another newsletter we thought it would be good to share it through an Exhibition at which you can see, touch and hear the results so far. So here it is...

FERNHURST

WILDLIFE EXHIBITION

Saturday 25th October 2003 11am – 5pm
Sunday 26th October 2003 10am – 5pm

In Fernhurst Village Hall

Come and enjoy:

- ♣ A 3D model of the Parish, bringing the landscape alive
- ♣ Wildflowers from our roadside verges
- ♣ Hedgerows - can you tell the age of a hedge?
- ♣ How our parish land is used today
- ♣ The changing landscape - find clues to the history of the parish from the land itself and old maps

- ♣ Garden birds – a fascinating insight into our garden visitors

- ♣ Bats – listen to their radar calls

- ♣ Butterflies

- ♣ Amphibians and mammals

- ♣ Owls, and our project to help them survive

- ♣ Interesting objects from the Village Archives

- ♣ Local plants / foliage display by Fernhurst Horticultural Society

PLUS

Fernhurst Photographic Competition (winner announced 4pm Sunday)
